From the Pastor's Pen

It is he whom we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone in all wisdom, so that we may present everyone mature in Christ. For this I toil and struggle with all the energy that he powerfully inspires within me.
Colossians 1:28-29 (emphasis mine)

As a preacher of the gospel of Jesus Christ, Paul was as relentless at this task as he was in his persecution of Christians prior to his life changing experience in Damascus. Paul proclaimed the good news of Jesus Christ and taught anyone who would listen (maybe even those who didn't want to listen) about faith and life in Christ. This very letter was written to the church in Colossae while Paul was in prison; no need to let that situation deter him! Paul doesn't take all the credit for his tenacity and dedication. He willingly gives credit to God for it – God provides the energy, power, and inspiration.

The summer months, approximately May through August, have a different cadence than the rest of the year. Even if you don't have school age children to drive the changing of the tide in your life, summer is different. The rush hour trek is usually better, traffic to vacation destinations is worse. The sunshine lasts longer and so does the outdoor fun. The gas bill goes down and the electric bill goes up! Summer is just different.

For me, this particular summer has been exponentially different and it's not over yet! 4 graduations, 3 birthdays, 2 major holidays, and 1 anniversary are already in the books. Increased pastoral care, preaching, and administrative tasks have entered my world and have already provided much in the way of expanding my knowledge and practical experience regarding ministry in the church. The summer of 2016 has already been unique in many ways. August promises to follow suit as Kevin and I empty our nest with each passing week.

Volume 16, Issue 7/8

For many of you, there is also a story to tell about how summer brings changes to your life. Frolicking, fun, and relaxation are a staple in summer for the young, young at heart, not so young, and everyone in between. Family reunions, class reunions, and generally reconnecting with people are also big parts of summer and the opportunities it brings. I hear from you the wonderful and important things going on that make this summer a special and unique time in your life. It can also be true that your work load increases due to the new cadence of summer. Or maybe summer is a period of reflection and planning. Whatever the case, summer is simply different.

My hope for each of us this summer is as follows: no matter what the summer holds, we bring our God given energy, power, and inspiration to the task. Just as God provided for Paul exactly what was needed for preaching and teaching despite his imprisonment, God also uplifts each of us through any and all situations as we navigate this season fondly called summer.

Many Presbyterians around the country gave up a portion of their summer to be present at the PCUSA General Assembly in Portland, Oregon. They had the task of attending to the governance of our denomination. I am thankful that they were willing to make such a sacrifice. While many of our ministries here get a much needed period of rest over the summer, several are on overdrive with things like concerts, VBS, golf tournaments, building and grounds concerns, scouting trips, community support and much, much more. I am thankful for each person's commitment to serving others.

As we each toil and struggle to be faithful to the endeavors that God has called us to this summer, let's be thankful for the energy, power, and inspiration that God has given us to do it!

In Christ,

British

THE BEGINNING OF THE CONVERSATION

“Effective second chair leaders in the church understand God’s vision for their congregation, and they embrace it wholeheartedly. They are able to see ways to accelerate progress toward the vision. They can design and implement new ministries and overhaul old ones to keep the congregation on track. They can share the vision with others and expand the foundation of committed leaders and followers. They can lift the leadership burden from the first chair without usurping authority.

...The executive or associate pastor is not the only second chair leader in a church. Other second chair leaders in your congregation may have any number of titles or roles. In a multi-staff church, other pastoral and program staff could be second chair leaders. We also know that it does not take a paycheck to be a leader in a congregation. Second chair leaders may be found in the congregation’s key decision-making body: deacons, elders, session, church council, vestry. Or they may lead specific ministries and have widespread influence in doing so. Some lay leaders have enormous influence despite their lack of a significant title or formal role. A person’s position may be a platform from which to lead, but a title is not what makes someone an effective second chair leader.”

Mighty Acts Charity Golf Tournament

The 34th Annual Mighty Acts Golf Tournament took place on Saturday, June 25, 2016 at Spring Lake Country Club in York, SC. Funds raised go to support needy families and children throughout the year. We encourage members to alert us to any needs in our community. Requests for consideration can be sent to Russell Helms by calling him at 704-905-8436 or by email: russell.helms@desoutterttools.com

B&G Team needs your help! We are having a work day Saturday July 16th from 8:00 am to 1:00pm. We have inside work to do so the heat will not be a problem. We need painters, cleaners, carpenters and other skills. We especially need someone good with IT to help install a new Wi-Fi network. Please contact Dave Barbee with any questions.

PRESCHOOL NEWS!

Happy Summer! Preschool is a quiet place right now. We will continue registration for the 2016-2017 year as parents come throughout the summer. We are in a very good place and we look forward to having a full house in the fall!

Central Steele Creek's Preschool has a wonderful ministry in this changing community. We have families that do not know the truth of Christ. We have children that come to us that understand very little English, if any, and have never been away from their parents. We have families that have moved here and have no one close by for support. They are also struggling to find their place in a culture that is very different from where they came. Our preschool has the opportunity to meet some of their needs. We are able to encourage parents when they have questions or concerns. We are able to look their little one in the eyes and let them know they are safe without saying a word. We are able to provide a safe, fun, learning environment so that these moms can go home and recharge. Most importantly, we are able to show them the love of Christ! I love that!

Thank you for supporting us through your prayers and encouragement. We do not take our responsibility and calling lightly. I hope we are able to meet the needs of those that come to us in the fall and I hope that how we do that is pleasing to the Lord!

Love, Lisa

CELEBRATION!

Please join us in the Parlor on Sunday, August 14, immediately following worship to celebrate the upcoming wedding of Michelle Skidmore and Zack Flanagan.

~Gifts are certainly not required for your attendance but just in case you'd like to remember them, they are registered at Macy's, Target, and Bed Bath & Beyond.

~Michelle is the daughter of Ardy Skidmore and is a graduate of Appalachian University. Michelle is a talented violinist and has shared the talent God gave her with the church for many years.

~Let's come together to show our love for Michelle and family.

What is FA?

Food Addicts in Recovery Anonymous is an international fellowship of men and women who have experienced difficulties in life as a result of the way we used to eat. We joined FA because we were obsessed with food. We find that we need this program of recovery and the fellowship of others who share our problem in order to stop abusing food and begin living fulfilling lives. Through shared experience and mutual support, we help each other to recover from the disease of food addiction.

How Can I Get Started in FA or Find Out More About the Program?

It's easy to begin! We encourage you to attend a meeting to learn more about the program. There are no dues or fees, and newcomers are welcome. We have a current list of meetings listed on the FA website (www.foodaddicts.org) We also have weekly meetings at Central Steele Creek Presbyterian Church on Thursday evenings at 7pm in the Fellowship Hall. If you have questions, please contact: Margaret at 704-564-8647.
